Now that Uliman, the crack wrestler of the Williamsburg Athlette Association, has accepted the challenge of Hickey, the star of the National Athlette Club, considerable speculation is rife as to who will be the better man. The match will be contested in the near future in connection with som athietic attractions.

To-morrow at noon Charley Johnston will represent John L. Sullivan at a newspaper office, and if Frank P. Siavin means business he will make a match to fight for the championship of the world.

The Heard Athletic Club will entertain its friends to-night.
